

What I will miss

Write it in your own words, or draw it. None of it has to be finished.

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin brown border, intended for a child to write or draw their response to the prompt 'What I will miss'.

What I am looking forward to

If there's nothing, leave it blank. You can miss some things and look forward to others at the same time.